AMERICAN AIRLINES TICKET COUNTER MOVING TO TERMINAL B APRIL 1ST

Relocation Will Enhance Convenience for American's Passengers

BURBANK, Calif., March 26, 2010 – In keeping with its ongoing efforts to enhance traveler convenience, Bob Hope Airport will move the American Airlines ticket counter from Terminal A to Terminal B on April 1, 2010. Skycap service will also be available in front of Terminal B.

The move will streamline the check-in and boarding procedure for American customers since the relocated counter will be adjacent to the security checkpoint leading to the American Airlines hold room and aircraft gate in Terminal B.

“The passengers will enter Terminal B and find the American Airlines ticket counter within a few feet of the main doorway, and they will no longer have to walk from Terminal A to Terminal B after they check in. It will be a significant improvement for American Airlines patrons,” said Denis Carvill, Director of Contracts and Properties for the Airport.

American Airlines provides four daily non-stop flights to Dallas/Fort Worth, Texas from Bob Hope Airport.
